MY DREAM FOR YOU...

Is that one day you wake up and look at your bank account, and overnight, you hit the million mark. Not busting your ass off. Or neglecting your kids. Not by investing in sketchy marketing scams. Just by harnessing your own intellectual property, building an authentic brand and designing a strategic business. And in my dream, you'll get up, see those numbers on the screen, smile to yourself and say,

Hello Seven.

MEET RACHEL

Rachel Rodgers is a woman of color, a mother of four and a seven-figure business owner—in that order. Rachel started her career working as a lawyer with nonprofits, federal judges and Hillary Clinton.

When she realized that changing the world is easier when you have some cash in your bank account, she decided to build a million dollar business and then teach other women how to do the same. Her mission is to help women hit seven-figures without sacrificing their families and sanity.

Rachel is the creator of the Million Dollar Badass Podcast, the founder of Glow Up and the Million Dollar Badass Mastermind. Every week, her no-bullshit business and life advice gets delivered to over 30,000 fans and her visionary guidance for female entrepreneurs has been featured in Time, Forbes, Entrepreneur, Fast Company and the Washington Post.
